

Plan a flu shot clinic

A flu shot is a simple way to protect your employees' health. Getting the flu can compromise the immune system, and the impact of having flu and being exposed to the coronavirus is unknown.

Hosting an onsite clinic helps your employees prepare for flu season. Studies by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) show that getting vaccinated can reduce the risk of flu-related doctor visits by 40–60%. Our contracted vendors will help you make the clinic a success.

How a flu shot clinic works

You contact a vendor directly to schedule your clinic. See the table on the back to find the one that's right for you. Choose a national vendor if you have employees outside your state. Most vendors have a required minimum number of participants. For your employees' convenience, vendors may offer drive-up clinics at certain times in selected areas.

Your employees don't need to pay or send us any information. Our contracted vendor will bill us. We'll send an explanation of benefits (EOB) to each of your employees who gets a flu shot and is an Asuris member.

Flu shots are covered for employees or dependents on your Asuris plan. You can make special payment arrangements with the vendor to provide flu shots for employees who are not Asuris members.

Getting a flu vaccine will not protect against COVID-19. However, flu vaccines have been shown to reduce the risk of flu illness, hospitalization and death. Getting a flu vaccine this fall can help conserve potentially scarce health care resources.

Frequently asked questions

How can I be sure my plan covers a flu shot clinic?

An on-site flu shot clinic is covered under our standard contracts. Grandfathered and non-standard contracts may have a different benefit. Call Asuris Customer Service at 1 (888) 367-2109 to confirm a clinic is covered by your plan.

What if my employees get a flu shot on their own?

If an employee gets a flu shot somewhere other than Costco, Walgreens or any other in-network pharmacy, they may have to pay when they get their shot. If they'd like to be reimbursed, they'll need to submit a claims reimbursement form to us, available on asuris.com, along with an itemized receipt. Their deductible or copay may apply.

Will a flu vaccine protect against COVID-19?

Getting a flu vaccine will not protect against COVID-19. Public mask-wearing, social distancing, frequent handwashing and quarantining when symptoms occur are recommended at all times until further notice.
